

Seabrook Eco Warrior News

Date:: 24th June 2016

Issue No. 4

Love the Earth July 4th to 18th July

Please join us in celebrating our love for our planet! During July we will be reflecting about how much our planet gives us and how well we look after it.

We will also be thinking about how we can express, how much we care and how grateful we are for all that we are given.

All families and friends are invited to join us in the afternoon of 18th July (from 2:00pm) to view the children's art work, letters, photos and much more.

Our children have been very touched by a short video clip from a website called "forthe love of.org" and have written or will be writing letters to someone in their family about their wishes for the future. These letters will be displayed for you to read on the 18th July.

Love the Earth Tag Day—Monday 18th July

Children are invited to come to school wearing a mask or clothes to represent an endangered species and make a donation to the WWF charity. This charity works for the protection of endangered animals—<http://www.wwf.org.uk/wildlife>

Children's clothes and shoe exchange—Friday 8th July from 3.30pm to 4.30pm

Parents/carers—this is a game for you to take part in! It is an exercise in recycling and sharing!

Please send in up to two items per child of clothing/shoes on this morning and collect a voucher from our ECO Warriors in the playground. Then come back in the afternoon to choose items from those that other parents have sent in.

Green Hearts

Inspired by the work of "fortheloveof.org" we would like to invite all parents, carers, teachers and children to design and wear a green heart during July to show their commitment to looking after our planet.

Competition

Design a poster of an endangered species

Closing date is the Monday 11th July.

Make it colourful and eye catching and include some facts about why the animal you have chosen is endangered and where they live. Posters will be displayed for you all to see on the 18th July. Prizes to be won!

Design an art piece for our Love the Earth Art Gallery

Bring in to school on Friday 15th July

Design a piece of art that expresses your love for our planet. Be as expressive as you like—it could be a poem, sculpture, drawing, painting or collage for example. When you bring your artwork to school please collect a card from the office to label your work.

Book Swap Day—6th July

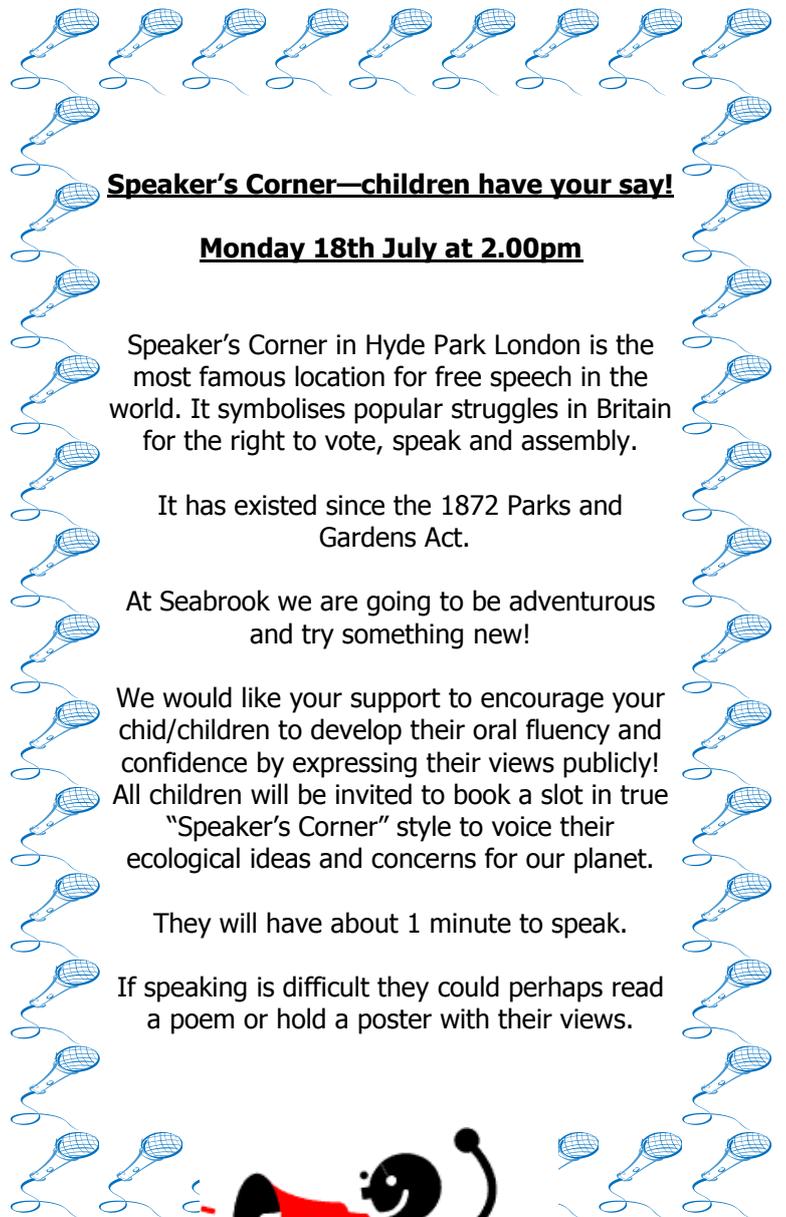

Children bring in a book that you've read and don't want any more and swap it for another from your friends!

What are your wishes for our planet?

Keep an eye out for pens and cards with ribbons around school for you to add your own wishes for our world.

Speaker's Corner—children have your say!

Monday 18th July at 2.00pm

Speaker's Corner in Hyde Park London is the most famous location for free speech in the world. It symbolises popular struggles in Britain for the right to vote, speak and assembly.

It has existed since the 1872 Parks and Gardens Act.

At Seabrook we are going to be adventurous and try something new!

We would like your support to encourage your child/children to develop their oral fluency and confidence by expressing their views publicly! All children will be invited to book a slot in true "Speaker's Corner" style to voice their ecological ideas and concerns for our planet.

They will have about 1 minute to speak.

If speaking is difficult they could perhaps read a poem or hold a poster with their views.

